The University Hatchet

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Vol. 22, No. 8

Washington, D. C., Wednesday, November 11, 1925

Welcome to George Washington, delegates of the Association of Urban Universities.

The Axe

By Frances Randolph

THE dedication of Stockton Hall this week marks a new era in the life of the Law School and the University. All departments except the Medical School and the School of Pharmacy are now located on the block between G and H and 20th and 21st. This centralization policy which the President is fostering, is the thing which is making George Washington University one great unit, instead of the many widely separated ones with few common interests, which it was for years.

THIS is the best yet: The Hatchet has received a most remarkable epistle from a person appropriately named Ananias, which begins—and continues—in the following manner. "Dear Sir: Having scanned your pages in vain for some manifestation of a human energy behind The Hatchet. . . . Then follows a quite unprintable criticism of a certain article run a short time ago in the Daily News on the fall of a certain flyer, in which Ananias argues at great length that said flyer fell, not in the county alleged but in several adjoining counties, though, he says, the News is correct in assuming that he was 'more thickly distributed' in the one named.

WE are now endeavoring seriously but with little tangible result to determine just what our friend Ananias meant by a "human energy" which is lacking in the Hatchet. As we see nothing supernatural in the energy which goes into it, we are compelled to dismiss this criticism, like the other, as irrelevant. However, if Ananias will come around to the Hatchet office we will do our best to direct the flow of his misguided talent into better gutters.

THE Young Women's Christian Association County Fair was held in the gymnasium last Friday night. But, my dear Young Women, do you think it's either Christian or Fair to charge ten cents for a dance on an unwaxed floor?

HOWEVER, this County Fair is voted the best ever. The dancing made everybody tired, too much cider made everybody dizzy, the confetti made everybody blind, the doughnuts and hot dogs gave everybody indigestion, and everybody went home satisfied and happy. A good time was had by all.

AS usual, Saturday was ushered in—ushered out by rain. A dispiriting drizzle literally dampened the spirits of the hardy ones who saw the game tied between Temple and George Washington. Has a blue law been passed against football?

"HOW can they have professional journalistic fraternities here?" a young hopeful was heard to ask the other day. "Nobody who thought seriously of journalism for a profession would come here!" That's where she's wrong. There are many people here training themselves as best they can for journalistic careers. Washington is the finest city in the United States for just such study, and George Washington may some day be the greatest center of education in that line. All it needs is a few adequate courses in the more advanced phases of newspaper work.

AS the Oxford debaters said of themselves, with just enough truth to make the remark thoroughly enjoyable, "Oxford men never were known to speak on the subject under discussion." Who, however, does not really prefer that they should live up to this reputation and show us a brand of wit that somehow does not flourish in this country?

ALSO, we bashfully "submit," to use one of their own expressions, that their little reference to the Hatchet and incidentally to this column was worth at least two minutes of real argument to most of the audience and prejudiced not a few irrevocably in their favor.

CRUM TEAM PLAYS TEMPLE MACHINE TO SCORELESS TIE

Team Wallow Through the Mud in Their Effort to Earn Decision

AXEMEN OUTPLAY FOES

Make Long Gains in Last Half; Slippery Ball Costs G. W. Victory

By CAMPBELL STARR

The weatherman, aided and abetted by a steady drizzle conspired against the Buff and Blue last Saturday, and the muddest with Temple University of Philadelphia ended in a 0 to 0 draw. In the waning moments of the fray, George Washington twice wallowed its way through the slime until it was within the Cherry and White five-yard line, only to have its efforts nullified by costly fumbles which were recovered by the Quakers.

The mere handful of rooters who braved the inclement elements were treated to a glimpse of football at its worst. Penalties were frequent, fumbles occurred often, and it is remarkable that neither eleven scored. Shortly after the game opened it was virtually impossible to distinguish one team from the other, due to the thick coating of mud which encased the players.

Hatchetmen Halt Advance

Temple made only one threat during the affair. This came in the second quarter, when a fumble by Sapp gave them the oval on the Crummen's 15-yard line. Three attempts at rushing the ball were stemmed by the Hatchet forwards, and Kaufman dropped back to the 25-yard line for a field goal. His kick was partly blocked, and Wilton scooped up the ball, carrying it back to his 20-yard line.

After an exchange of punts, Coleman reeled off 20 yards to midfield, where Jacobs intercepted a forward pass. The half ended with the slippery pigskin in possession of the Quakers on the 50-yard marker.

Throughout the remainder of the game, George Washington kept the ball in the visitors' territory, repeatedly working it to within scoring distance, only to be prevented from tallying by unfortunate breaks. In the last few minutes of the final period, Clapper made a beautiful return of a punt and was halted down on the 20-yard line. Coleman took ten yards around left end, and two successive line plays netted 5 yards more. Clapper got within a few inches of the line, but fumbled; as he was tackled, the Cherry and White recovered, and Kaufman punted out of danger.

With the ball on Temple's 20-yard line, Sapp muffed a bad pass from Kendall, and with the entire Quaker line after him, reversed his

TROUBADOURS APPOINT TO FILL UP VACANCIES

Dorothy Daugherty and Jack Crum To Be Treasurer and Managing Director

The "Troubadours," the year-old musical dramatic club, opened its second meeting of the year by electing a treasurer and making several other necessary appointments. Last year Helen Boyd was treasurer, but as she has left for another university her office had to be filled. Dorothy Daugherty was elected to fill this post. Jack Crum, brother of the football coach, is to be managing director.

Student directors are as follows: Gene Sweeney, Annabelle Lloyd, Smith Brookhart; for publicity, Pearl Witmore; for property manager, Helen Periam. There are several offices still to be filled, and anyone who has interest and ability along these lines is urged to offer his services. These offices are electrician, "make-up" man and stage manager.

Mr. O'Conner from the O'Conner School of Expression spoke upon the necessity of much hard work and faithful practice in order to attain success. Several selections were given by two of Mr. O'Conner's pupils.

REGISTRATION NEARS FIVE THOUSAND MARK

There are now 4,908 students enrolled in George Washington, according to the latest report of the Registrar. In Columbian College the registration is 2,815; in Teachers' College, 547; in the Law School, 1,084; in the Medical School, 252; in Engineering College, 583; in the School of Pharmacy, 28; and in the Graduate School, 404. The total is far in excess of that of previous years.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED GO TO COUNTY FAIR

Spot Dance, Fortune Telling and Side Show Feature Gala Event

DANCERS GIVEN PRIZES

Police Department Furnishes Rope But Just to Hold Chairs In Place

Over five hundred students, in addition to a number of the faculty, attended the County Fair held in the Gym last Friday night, and it is safe to say that not one regretted it. It has the distinction of being considered the best Fair that has ever been held on the campus, not excluding the first one, which up to this time has held that position of honor.

The various booths were attractively decorated. Particularly notable was the Freshman booth just inside the entrance door. It was a Japanese booth, decorated with wisteria, with delightful shiny red apples on sticks adding a dash of bright color on their counter, to say nothing of the several winsome little Japanese maidens who served its apples and popcorn so daintily.

Given Pig-Faced Hyena

The Pi Phi booth added a corner of vivid color with its multi-colored balloons, and also added much to the general riot of noise, thanks to the numerous articles of tin and wood they sold for that very purpose.

Central Club, in its side show, had a G. W. mascot, and each one who went in had an opportunity to name it, the one suggesting the best name receiving the mascot as a prize. While she was dancing, Helen Taylor was presented with the pig-faced hyena, with the result that one cooed, who evidently had not been in the show, wanted to know just what had happened and if it was another stunt dance.

As for the fortune-telling booths—it was almost necessary to call out the Police Reserves. There was a long waiting line the entire evening by the door of the Egyptian blond, which increased every time someone came out with a sort of scared expression on his face.

One poor little Freshman waited two hours and a half to get in. It was noticed too that our Gypsy as well didn't get much chance to leave her strategic position above the maddening crowds; it is a wonder that the stairs leading up to her "studio" are still in existence after the tramp of many feet in that direction.

Police Furnish Rope

Which all goes to show that while the intellectual college student may not believe in fortune telling, yet he and (particularly she) is still curious enough to want to see how much of his personal business can be told him.

The Police Department actually did help with the dance, for it furnished the rope which held the chairs in place around the space reserved for the dancers. The music was unusually good and the floor was crowded from the time of the first dance until the very end.

An innovation was the spot dance; a particular spot on the floor was chosen by Dean Rbse and another member of the faculty, the couple who danced over that spot being presented with King and Queen Kewpies. The dolls were won by Tillie Silber and Oscar Felker.

Elsie Talbert had charge of the arrangements for the dance and there is not a doubt but that everyone realized the good results of her work. Helen Dix as chairman of the Fair has been receiving commendation and congratulations for her splendid work ever since, and much credit is due her for her success in such a man-sized job.

ENLARGE SIZE OF YEARBOOK BOARD

Henry James, Ruth Williams, and Charles Hayes Added As Editors

STAFF POSITIONS OPEN

Applications Should Be Sent to Stanley Tracy, Editor-In-Chief

Acting on recommendation of Henry Gratton Doyle, chairman of the Publications Council, the Faculty Committee has appointed three new members to the Cherry Tree Editorial Board, increasing its size to seven members. The new members named are Ruth Williams, Charles Hayes, and Henry James.

The Cherry Tree Board is starting out with the aim in view of presenting to George Washington this year a better and more attractive book than ever before. A meeting was held last Tuesday, November 3, of the existing board, consisting of Stanley Tracy, Jeanne Gravatte, Edwin Bettelheim and Arthur Perry, plus the new members named above.

At a previous meeting of the Board Stanley Tracy had been elected Editor-in-Chief by the Board, and Arthur Perry, Business Manager. Several further appointments were made, Tuesday. Jeanne Gravatte was elected Managing Editor, Ruth Williams, Organization Editor, and Arthur Perry, Publications Editor. Members to represent the Cherry Tree on the Publications Council are Stanley Tracy, Arthur Perry and Jeanne Gravatte.

All Members Experienced

All members of the Board have had experience in Publications work at the University, either on the Cherry Tree or Hatchet Staff in previous years.

Y. W. C. A. CONTEST UNDER WAY TO NAME MAGAZINE

Plans of Social Service Committee Include Filling of Children's Xmas Stockings

At the last meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held Friday, immediately following chapel, copies of the Y. W. C. A. Magazine were distributed among the members. Marguerite Smith, the president of the organization, announced the contest which will be held in an endeavor to secure a suitable name for the magazine. Names should be submitted, with a reason for the choice, in the editorial box below the bulletin board on the first floor of the Association Building.

The Social Service Committee gave an outline of its plan of work for the ensuing year. It will include the filling of Xmas stockings for the children of the Bruen Home.

Every girl in the University is invited to attend the meetings of the Y. W. C. A. which are held the first Friday of every month.

UNIVERSITY HATCHET STARTED AS PRIVATE ENTERPRISE BY STUDENT

Ruediger Meets Man in Los Angeles Who Published "Weekly Columbian" and Changed Name to "Hatchet"

While in Los Angeles last summer, Dean Ruediger had the unique experience of meeting the man who first published "The Hatchet." According to Dean Ruediger, he is O. L. Ferris, of the advertising firm of Smith and Harris, 739 South Hope Street, Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Ferris was student in our Law School from 1902 to 1905. In 1905 he edited the "Weekly Columbian," to help pay his college expenses. As the name of the University was changed from Columbian University to George Washington Uni-

HOLD DEDICATION OF STOCKTON HALL SATURDAY IN GYM

URBAN U. DELEGATES CONVENE TOMORROW

President Lewis and John Hays Hammond Among Prominent Speakers

G. W. PROVIDES MUSIC

Representatives Meet in Corcoran Hall; Many Will Stay Over for Law School Dedication

Prominent educators from all parts of the country will speak on problems connected with the administration of universities located in large cities, at the annual meeting of the Association of Urban Universities, which opens at George Washington University on Thursday.

Registration for the convention will take place in Corcoran Hall tomorrow morning. More than thirty presidents, deans and representatives of member institutions are expected to attend. As the last session of the convention comes on the morning of Saturday, the 14th, many will remain over for the dedication of the new Law School building, which takes place that afternoon.

Lewis to Deliver Address

President William Mather Lewis, who for the past year has been head of the Association, will deliver the presidential address. John Hays Hammond, eminent mining engineer, and well known in Washington and throughout the country, will be the speaker at the dinner on the evening of Friday, the 13th, at the Hotel Powhatan.

The program also includes addresses by Chancellor Samuel P. Capen, of Buffalo University; President Robert E. Vinson, of Western Reserve University; President John D. Finlayson, of Fairmount College, Wichita, Kansas; President Frank Aydelotte, of Swarthmore; President Frederick C. Hicks, of the University of Cincinnati; Dean Thyra W. Amos, of the University of Pittsburgh; Dean Frederick B. Robinson, of the College of the City of New York; Dean David MacKenzie, of the College of the City of Detroit; Professor Spurgeon Bell, of Ohio State; the Commissioner of Education, John J. Tigert; Walter Hines Page, Jr., and Dr. David A. Robertson, of the American Council of Education.

Glee Club, Band, on Program

At the meeting which takes place tomorrow night, the Men's Glee Club will sing and a quartet from the University Band will play. Under the direction of Mr. Emanuel Cumulada, Miss I. Becker, Miss R. Seitzick, Professor P. E. Gropp, and Spencer Prentiss are planning a group of selections especially in honor of the distinguished visitors.

JOURNALISTS TO SPEAK AT MEETING OF STAFF

Leonard Hall, Dramatic Editor of the News, and Norman Baxter of the Post Sport Staff, will speak at a meeting of the entire Hatchet Staff Friday, at 7 p. m., in Room 17 Corcoran Hall. All members of the staff must be present. The Editorial Board plans other meetings throughout the year, to be addressed by prominent Washington journalists.

TECHNICAL STUDENTS WILL ORGANIZE CLUB

Men students of Technical High School plan to form a club similar to that now in operation among the Central students and will hold a meeting for that purpose in Room 29, Corcoran Hall, Friday night at 8 p. m.

The purpose of the club is to foster spirit among the alumni of Tech now at George Washington, and to help in the general plan of student pep.

Dean Pound, of Harvard Law School, to Deliver Dedication Address

RECEPTION IN EVENING

President Lewis to Present Dean Van Vleck With Keys of Law School

Stockton Hall, new home of the George Washington University Law School, will be formally dedicated Saturday afternoon at five o'clock in the University Gymnasium. The evening program will start at nine o'clock with a reception in Stockton Hall, to be followed by dancing and light refreshments in the Gym.

The dedicatory address will be delivered by Dean Roscoe Pound of the Harvard Law School. The ceremony will close with the benediction, after which the academic procession will file out, while the audience remains standing.

At nine o'clock there will be a reception in Stockton Hall. President Lewis will head the receiving line. Dancing and refreshments will follow in the gymnasium.

Fifteen out-of-town delegates had accepted invitations to the exercises by Saturday of last week, according to Helen Newman, Secretary of the Law School. Several more are expected from law schools throughout the country. The Association of Urban Universities, representing 32 colleges, which convenes in Washington tomorrow, will swell the number of distinguished guests.

Register in Morning

Registration and reception of delegates will take place in Stockton Hall Saturday morning, November 14, from 10 o'clock until 12:30. There will be a luncheon at the Lafayette Hotel for guests and delegates at one o'clock, to be followed by an automobile trip around the city at 2:30.

The ceremony of dedication will occur at five o'clock, in the gymnasium. The academic procession will form at 4:30 in Stockton Hall, from whence it will proceed to the gym. President Lewis is to be the presiding officer of the ceremony, which will be opened with the invocation by a local minister. Short addresses will be delivered by Captain Edward Stafford, '14, President of the George Washington Law School Association, and by Colonel Walter C. Clephane, in behalf of the faculty. A member of the Board of Trustees will present President Lewis with the keys of the building. After a short speech of acceptance, he will, in turn, deliver the keys to Dean Van Vleck of the Law School, who will also give a short talk. The Glee Club will render two selections, which have not as yet been selected.

JOURNALISM DEPARTMENT REQUESTED BY PI DELTS

Unanimously Adopt Resolution Asking That School of Journalism Be Established

A resolution requesting that a Department of Journalism be established at George Washington University was unanimously adopted at the last meeting of the George Washington chapter of the Pi Delta Epsilon Honorary Journalistic Fraternity.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, it is the object of Pi Delta Epsilon to foster, develop and elevate the profession of Journalism, and,

"Whereas, Washington as the capital of the world's greatest nation is probably the news center of the world, and,

"Whereas there are at present no institutions of higher learning in the vicinity of the District of Columbia that offer more than elementary training in Journalism, and,

"Whereas, there are a large number of students in George Washington who intend to follow Journalism as a profession in life, and a larger number who every year enroll in other Universities because they cannot secure adequate training in Journalism at George Washington,

"Be it resolved: That the George Washington University chapter of the Pi Delta Epsilon Honorary Journalistic Fraternity, recommend to the Administration that a Department of Journalism be installed at George Washington University, and,

"Be it further resolved: That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the University."

CENTRAL CLUB NOTICE

The Central Club announces a vaudeville show to be held at the Central High School on Friday and Saturday, November 13 and 14, at 8 p. m. Admission will be 35 and 50 cents.

WHAT STOCKTON HALL SIGNIFIES

It is not without a certain collective swelling of the chest that the student body, particularly that section in the Law School, turns to the dedication of Stockton Hall. The new structure epitomizes the greatest advance the law department has yet made, both as to facilities and as to educational standard, which rose to its highest point coincident with the erection of the building. And it stands as another symbol of the most comprehensive plan of expansion attempted by University officials in many decades.

Look back over just a short space of years and compare G. W. then with G. W. now; the great change is evident. It is one more proof that rapid progress by any large institution can best be made when that institution has as its leader an active, virile head.

WELCOME, URBAN UNIVERSITIES

The Association of Urban Universities, which meets here for three days, beginning tomorrow, will bring to George Washington University the leading men of thirty-two of the most famous urban universities of the United States. Advocating the advancement of education, and fostering a closer union between the colleges and universities of the urban type, the Association is doing such great work that urban schools of higher learning are rapidly advancing to a position on a level, and in many instances, superior to universities situated in towns or small cities.

A more fitting place for this year's convention could hardly have been selected than our University, situated as it is in the heart of the Capital City of the Nation. Dr. William Mather Lewis is president of the Association, and will welcome the delegates to Washington and turn the University over to their use. Sightseeing tours have been arranged to the many near-by points of interest for the visitors.

It is with open arms and heartiest well-wishes that we welcome the delegates, whose interests and problems are those of our own school, to Washington and to George Washington University.

A DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM

At its last meeting the George Washington chapter of the Pi Delta Epsilon Honorary Journalistic Fraternity unanimously passed a resolution requesting the administration to establish a Department of Journalism at George Washington University. The Board of Hatchet Editors is one hundred percent in favor of the creation of such a department. We have advanced arguments in the past in our editorial columns advocating the establishment of a School of Journalism, and will continue to write editorials on the subject until the school is established.

This is offered as representative student opinion to an administration that has never turned a deaf ear to reasonable requests of students. The resolution adopted by Pi Delta Epsilon is not unreasonable. It suggests an enlargement in the University curriculum that is urgently needed and one that is inevitable if George Washington is to continue the progressive policy that has won it a place among the foremost American Universities.

A PROPOSITION

A system has been suggested, which if put into effect, would make the Annual Roll Call the greatest student event of the year, and would make the leadership of it, one of the highest honors that could come to a student in his college career.

The plan suggested is that in the spring the Junior Class officers meet and appoint the leading Junior in their respective colleges to membership on the next year's Roll Call Committee. To be eligible one would have to excel in scholarship, activities, and student leadership. Certain minimum limitations would be set preventing the arbitrary appointment of a personal friend or party friend. This would bring into being a committee of five persons, who in their Senior year would have charge of the Roll Call and who would have had all of the previous summer to make their plans. They would elect a chairman from among their number. This would give the University a smaller, more representative and easier working committee than the present one.

The Hatchet is presenting this plan to you. Please think about it. If you like the plan, drop the Hatchet a line, if you don't like it, do the same. We will welcome any suggestions.

One of the most enjoyable dances of the Halloween season was given at the Phi Sigma Kappa House on Halloween night. The decorations evidenced the holiday spirit, as did also the refreshments—cider, doughnuts, coffee, cake, and apples. Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Nell Katherine Slayden and Rebecca Harris, from Randolph-Macon, and Mr. Chick Seaver, from Worcester Polytech. Other guests were Professor and Mrs. Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nagel.

The Phi Sigma Sigmas celebrated Halloween with a most delightful party dance. Date—October 31st. Place—4323 Fourteenth Street. Time—10 to 1. Food, music and novelties galore. Prizes were given for the best dance, worst dance, and best male dance.

The Chi Omega Sorority entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of Virian Simpson, a member of the successful George Washington debating team.

The witches came back and danced again last Tuesday, when, amid cats, pumpkins, and other Halloween decorations, the A D P's celebrated with a dance at the Brooke Tea House. A program of Charleston steps was given, which proved so contagious that half of the orchestra stopped playing and joined in the throng of would-be "Charlestoners."

Miss Flora Lapham entertained at bridge last week in honor of Mrs. Gordon Fuller. Among the guests were Lydagee and Margaret Black, Elizabeth Stickley, Lonnelle Davison, Betty Jaquette, Anita Hyrick, Dolly Bealer and Virginia Sinnott.

Eddie Dunlap has visited seventeen colleges since June, studying architectural features. But we wonder why Virginia and Harvard came first, aside from their architectural beauty.

The Phi Mu's attended the George Washington-Washington game en masse last Saturday. "Twink" Berry was disappointed when there were only four "innings." She was sure they always had nine.

Virginia Williams' approaching wedding is being preceded by a round of entertainment—parties, showers, etc. Ruth Newburn was hostess to a few friends of the bride at her home last Thursday evening, November 5. Katherine Shoemaker and Martha McGehee gave a bridge and shower for her at the home of Miss Shoemaker on Monday evening, November 9.

If you see men sporting green ties of most brilliant hue, you'll know they are S. A. E. goats.

Kitty Bryant entertained the Phi Mu Chapter at a luncheon at her home last week.

Beta Alpha Chapter of Phi Mu Sorority initiated three members on Monday, November 2, in the chapter rooms at 2024 G Street. They were Lydagee Black, Anita Hyrick, and Eleanor Barroll. After initiation, an informal reception was held for the new girls at which they were each presented with a bouquet of enchantress carnations.

Rainstorm at the Kappa Delta House! A shower for Mary MacPherson Meyer was held last Tuesday night at 1721 Que Street. Fall weather has been featured by showers and more are predicted in the near future.

Professor A. L. Harris, of the Architectural Department, is expected back from Europe the latter part of this month.

Virginia May was the house guest of Margaretta Schmidt, of Philadelphia, over the week-end and was the guest of honor at a Halloween dance there.

The latest report from Marion Barker, who is teaching school in Mexico, is that she loves the country, but admits that she feels slighted as no bandits have tried to capture her. The big brutes!

George Bowen, Medical School '25, and Catherine Tonge, Pi Phi, were married this summer. Dr. Bowen is now stationed at the Walter Reed Hospital.

John Milligan, of the dramatic staff of the Hatchet spent four months in South America the first part of this year, returning for over a month's stay in New York City, where he saw all the shows. While in New York he stayed at the same hotel with Irvin Shapiro, another George Washington student, who was then on the Newark Morning Ledger. Irvin is now back in town at his old position on the "Herald."

Frances De Grange has returned to school after spending two years in Cuba doing missionary work—Imagine Frances and missionary work!

The Chi Omega Fraternity will act as hostesses at Dean Rose's Tea to be held this afternoon.

Sigma Nu held memorial services Sunday night at the Cavalry M. E. Church, for two of its members who died in the past year.

Dr. J. S. Montgomery addressing members of the fraternity laid stress upon the three keys to the creed of Sigma Nu, love, honor, and truth.

N. Y. BOARD OF REGENTS O. K'S NURSES' SCHOOL

By a recent act of the Board of Regents of the New York State Department of Education, the George Washington University Training School for Nurses was formally registered as an approved school. Nurses who graduate from this department of the University and successfully pass the District Board may now become registered in the State of New York without further examination. With the excellent facilities of the Hospital and the laboratories of the Medical School combined with instruction by the ablest men and women of the Nursing and Medical Professions, George Washington sends its Graduates out into the field of service with qualifications of which it is justly proud.

FORMER STAFF EDITOR LEAVES FOR HONOLULU

Geo. Wilfred Pryor, who has been prominent in school activities for the past four years, sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu, November 4, to accept a position in the customs service there. Graduating from the Law School this fall, he hardly waited for the ink to dry on his diploma before leaving to make his fortune in distant parts.

Pryor was chairman of the first Roll Call; reporter, associate editor, and managing editor of the Hatchet; and vice-chairman of the student endorsement drive in charge of Law School. He is a member of the Pyramid Honor Society, and of the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Pi Delta Epsilon fraternities.

CHORAL CLUB DIRECTOR NAMES DOUBLE QUARTET

Those selected for the double quartet of the George Washington Choral Society by Estelle Wentworth, director, are Eleanor Judd, Ruth Barnhart, Adele Allison, and Mary Ewin, first and second sopranos, and Margery Mothershead, Edith Finney, Betty Springer, and Maxine Alverson, first and second altos. The double quartet is being trained apart from the regular sessions of the Choral Society, one afternoon a week, at the home of Miss Wentworth.

The entire society will present early in December, a cantata entitled, "The Landing of the Pilgrims." A light operetta is also under consideration. The double quartet will sing over the radio at an early date.

STUDENT ORCHESTRA WILL BE ORGANIZED

About forty students are out now for the orchestra, which is being formed under the supervision of Professor Lapham. This is an organization which is expected to prove very useful in backing the Glee Club. As soon as enough people manifest an interest in it to make it worth while, there will be a paid instructor, who, Prof. Lapham says, will be the finest possible to procure. A larger attendance is urged for the next meeting, to be announced later.

SPANISH CLUB HEARS LECTURE BY GONZALEZ

At a meeting of El Circulo Espanol Thursday, November 5, a lecture was given by Mr. Gonzalez of Porto Rico, whose subject was "The Importance of the Study of Spanish by American Students." He explained that if North American students would study Spanish, and South American students would study English, it would aid in bringing about a closer relationship between North and South America.

El Circulo Espanol will hold its next meeting on November 19.

CUMULADO DIRECTING NEW UNIVERSITY BAND

Every Wednesday night the George Washington University Band meets in Corcoran Hall and practices under the leadership of Emanuel Cumulado.

Mr. Cumulado is at present in charge of all instruction in the Army School of Music. He is an excellent musician, and is making others out of those in his charge. All students of musical inclination and interested in a Band at George Washington, should report to Mr. Cumulado tonight in Corcoran Hall.

COLUMBIAN WOMEN HEAR TALK BY ARTHUR RIGGS

The Columbian women held a tea for women of Columbian College in the Council Room of Corcoran Hall on Tuesday, November 3, 1925. Mrs. Doyle, the president, Dean Rose, and Misses Alice Cocke, Marjorie Folsom, and Mary Yewen, the three girls who were given scholarships this year by the Columbian Women, received. After tea was served Mr. Arthur Stanley Riggs, Editor of Art and Archeology, spoke upon "France," which is also the title of a book he has just published.

MINISTERIAL SOCIETY ADOPTS CONSTITUTION

The Ministerial Association of George Washington University held its second meeting last Friday night in Corcoran Hall. A constitution and by-laws was adopted after general discussion. The association, which is composed of students in the University who are either ministers or contemplating entering the ministry, will meet once a month on the last Tuesday of each month. A special program will be prepared for each meeting. James H. Taylor was appointed to prepare a program for the meeting on November 24.

RECLAMATION SERVICE HEAD MEETS ENGINEERS

F. H. Newell Blames Mine Operators' Psychology for Present Suspension of Work

Dr. F. H. Newell, who has been director of the Reclamations Service, and head of the Department of Engineering in the University of Illinois, addressed the Engineering Society in Corcoran Hall last Wednesday evening upon the "Coal Situation."

"It's up to you engineers to find new sources of energy, because we are becoming more and more dependent upon fuel," was his opening statement. He traced the development of the fossil fuels and showed how substitutes, such as oil and gas, were fast taking the place formerly assigned to anthracite.

The present "suspension of work" is a very difficult economic problem which Dr. Newell stated was due to bad psychology on the part of the mine operators.

"Strikes" he said, "are the lemons from which the engineers will make the lemonade of the future."

WCAP ANNOUNCER TALKS AT CHAPEL EXERCISES

William T. Pierce, a graduate of George Washington University, who is now the official announcer for the WCAP broadcasting radio station, gave a short talk on his work to a very interested audience in Chapel, Friday, November 6.

The purpose of the radio, said Mr. Pierce, is to entertain and to instruct. In order to give listeners-in a pleasing as well as a well balanced program, it is necessary to have the best of classical and popular music, short talks on the issues of the day, sporting events, dramatic selections, and on Sundays a church service.

Following his talk Mr. Pierce signed off for the WCAP station in the usual manner.

"HOW TO STUDY"

The Students' Hand-Book of Practical Hints on the Technique of Effective Study

by WILLIAM ALLAN BROOKS

A GUIDE containing hundreds of practical hints and short cuts in the economy of learning, to assist students in securing MAXIMUM SCHOLASTIC RESULTS at a minimum cost of time, energy, and fatigue. ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra curriculum activities and for average and honor students who are working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics Covered

Scientific Shortcuts in Effective Study
Preparing for Examinations
Writing Good Examinations
Brain and Digestion in Relation to Study
How to Take Lecture and Reading Notes
Advantages and Disadvantages of Cramming
The Athlete and His Studies

Etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, University of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes, are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learned 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

HATCHETMEN TO PLAY RANDOLPH-MACON NEXT

Journey to Ashland, Virginia, Friday To Meet Methodists in Grid Battle

Hoping to shake off the bad attack of fumbling which cost the victory last Saturday, the Hatchet grid eleven will journey to Ashland, Virginia, Friday to meet the Randolph-Macon College eleven. The game with the Methodist institution was substituted for the Albright contest, and has been scheduled for Friday at the request of the R. M. C. team.

Randolph-Macon has only been fairly successful in its football efforts this season. After several games with small teams it ran up against the William and Mary aggregation just after the Indians had taken two bad beatings from Navy and Syracuse, and was defeated 54 to 0.

Lose to Hopkins Last Saturday

Scheduled to play the University of Virginia two weeks ago the game was canceled to allow Virginia to prepare for her battle with Washington and Lee. Johns Hopkins University, of Baltimore, was the opponent of Randolph-Macon last Saturday, the Methodists losing to the Blue Jays, 20 to 0.

While the record of the R. M. C. team is not very good Coach Crum is taking no chances on losing Friday's contest, and has put his team through a strenuous week of practice sessions. Hayman, star tackle, who has been out of the game with a bad leg, is expected to get back in action in the Ashland contest, and Saunders, who was hurt in the American University game, will probably be in condition to play.

FORTY COEDS SIGN UP FOR RIFLE PRACTICE

Forty girls signed up for work on the rifle range this year at the meeting held Thursday, November 5. Shots from last year's squad as well as several of the girls from high school teams were among the number. There will be good material for the Varsity squad.

The schedule has been arranged, and the girls have been given from 11.30 to 3.30 on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Next week the new girls will not shoot, but will be instructed in the use of the gun.

All girls who are interested in rifle, but who have not signed up, should report to the range during one of the hours mentioned above.

TWO LEFT IN RACE FOR WOMEN'S TENNIS TITLE

Frances Walker and Phoebe Moorehead Reach Finals in Net Tournament

Women's net finals have been reached with Frances Walker and Phoebe Moorehead leading through defeat of Edith Chickering and Cecyle Taylor respectively, in two hard fought matches last week. The date for the final tilt is announced as Thursday, November 12 at 3 p. m., on the Monument Courts, 17th and B. Streets.

Net dope was badly upset by Miss Moorehead's defeat of Cecyle Taylor, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, last week. Miss Taylor for two years has been a high runner-up in the tournament and holds No. 2 position on the Varsity squad. The games were close and hotly contested. Miss Moorehead displayed a powerful forward drive that caught her opponent badly off guard at times. There was however a slight weakness in her backhand, and a tendency to serve double faults. Her line drives were powerful when she settled down and took two straight to win the opener. In the second brace Miss Taylor came out strong and won through steady rallies. She weakened in the final set and Miss Moorehead came back to her stride to force a defensive as she smashed to the net with strong overhead volleys and good side line drives.

Frances Walker Wins Again

The Walker-Chickering match was more closely contested than the score, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, indicated. Miss Chickering put up a hard fight and hopped off to a long lead in the first tilt with 5-2 to her favor before her opponent was well started. The champion took the eighth and ninth games, but Miss Chickering won her own service and made the decision 6-4.

In the second set Miss Walker shot straight through dropping only the first game. But it was in the third brace where she found herself again crowded hard, Miss Chickering opening with a 2-1 lead. After the Champion shot two straight her opponent promptly tied to 3-3. Miss Walker took the next two in quick succession and after a long battle in the ninth, which went to deuce six times, she smashed through to the victory.

With her powerful forward drive and splendid form for which she is noted throughout the District, Phoebe Moorehead is reported to be well matched with the champion of two years, Frances Walker, famous especially for her steady work with the racquet and her strong defensive game.

The other brace of the fourth match to be played last week in completing the bracket was the Chickering-Curran match in which Edith Chickering advanced to the fifth round to play Miss Walker by a 6-3, 7-5 victory over her opponent.

ORGANIZE INTERCLASS TEAMS IN BASKETBALL

Girls' Coach Will Choose Varsity Tossers From Those On Class Teams

Interclass girls' basketball teams were formed this year for the first time in the history of the University, according to Virginia Hopkins, director of physical education. Practice began last Tuesday.

After four weeks of inter-class games girls will be selected for the Varsity team, which will begin practice on December 1. Freshmen are showing a lively turnout, according to Miss Hopkins. A good deal of upper-class material is expected from the Sorority tossers who finished their games last week.

There is to be a basketball rally on November 11 at 7.30 p. m. in Room 29 of Corcoran Hall. Basketball in all its phases will be discussed, and all girls interested in this sport should come out on this date.

The practice schedule follows:

Tuesdays—
7.30—8.15—Freshmen.
8.15—9.00—Juniors.
Thursdays—
7.30—8.15—Sophomores.
8.15—9.00—Seniors.

CERCLE GALLIA TO MEET

Le Cercle Gallia will hold its first November meeting Friday evening at 8.30 in the Phi Mu rooms, third floor, 2024 G Street. Mr. de Potter will speak.

"Come over and get acquainted next Sunday morning around 9.30. Boreas Class for young men, First Baptist Church, 16th and O Sts., N. W."

FRAT BASKETBALL SERIES UNDERWAY

T. U. O., Sigma Nu, and S. A. E. Win Their Opening Contests

FEW FOULS IN GAMES

Games Scheduled for Friday Night Postponed on account of County Fair.

By GEORGE N. GARDNER

Victories were achieved by the Theta Upsilon Omega over Acacia and by Sigma Alpha Epsilon over Sigma Chi last Wednesday night, and Sigma Nu defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon Saturday night in the opening games of the inter-fraternity basketball series. All other scheduled games had to be postponed.

Theta Upsilon Omega swamped Acacia 28 to 9 in the first game in League 2. The T. U. O. team took the lead in the first few minutes of play and had no trouble in maintaining a good lead over the Masons. In the second half Theta Upsilon Omega used several substitutes who were not able to score as frequently as the first-string men, and allowed a little more scoring by Acacia.

Gettle was the star point gainer for Theta Upsilon Omega, getting five field goals and a free throw. Kelley, Acacia center, made three of the four field goals credited to Acacia, and made their only free throw point.

S. A. E. Noses Out Sigma Chi

Sigma Alpha Epsilon had to fight all the way to beat Sigma Chi 13 to 11. Sigma Chi threatened especially in the last quarter, with the score at 13 to 11, but was unable to put in a basket before the whistle blew.

No players stood out with marked brilliance over the rest, but Schreiber and Whyte were the leaders in basket shooting for Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sickler made three of Sigma Chi's five field goals. The two teams were evenly matched, and played a fast and hard-fought game.

Sigma Nu vanquished Sigma Phi Epsilon 15 to 14 in a game that was even closer than the Sig-Chi-S. A. E. battle. At the end of the first half the score was tied 4 to 4. Sigma Nu took the lead in the third quarter and kept it, but never by a very great margin.

Games Free of Fouls

Hill stood out as individual star, especially in scoring. He made six of the seven field goals credited to Sigma Nu, and scored more points than any other player in any game yet played. The games were quite free of fouls. No more than one personal foul was called on any one player, and only nine penalties were assessed for personals in all three games.

The games scheduled for Friday night, Sigma Nu vs. Phi Sigma Kappa in League 1, and Theta Delta Chi vs. Kappa Sigma in League 2 were postponed to Saturday November 14 on account of the County Fair. Kappa Sigma was unable to play its postponed game with Delta Tau Delta Saturday night November 7, and this will probably be played at a later date.

WILLETT FIRST HOME BUT OLD LINERS WIN

Maryland Cross-Country Team Ekes Out Victory Over Hatchet Harriers in Practice Meet

George Washington harriers lost their first cross-country run by a 27-28 score when they met the University of Maryland in a practice meet at College Park Saturday afternoon. Hurd Willett of the Hatchetmen was the first to finish the 5 and 8-10 mile grind, closely followed by Newman of Maryland and Shipley of G. W. U. Besides winning the first cross-country race for the Buff and Blue, Willett had been previously selected by members of the team as G. W. U.'s first cross-country captain. The winner's time was 31 minutes, 15 seconds, which was excellent considering that the entire race was run in the mud and rain.

In addition to the leaders, those who counted in the scoring were: Gadd (M.); Domigan (G. W.); Patruska (M.); Remberg (M.); Bowman (M.); Anderson (G. W.); and Blaby (G. W.) in order.

To Meet William and Mary Next

The result of the meet is very encouraging to Coach Proby, since this is the first competition in which the team has engaged. Maryland is regarded as the strongest team in this section and the class of competition with whom they ordinarily engage made it necessary to schedule George Washington as a preliminary meet.

Next week the team journeys to Williamsburg, Virginia, where the William and Mary runners will be met. The meet with the Navy Academy the following week is taken in preference to the South Atlantic engagement on the same date. Although the Hatchet team would have a good chance of winning the South Atlantic meet, Coach Proby feels that even greater prestige may be gained when his harriers journey to Annapolis for their meet with the Middles.

HATCHETITES DEFEAT AMERICAN U. GRIDMEN

Inexperienced Team Puts Up Game Fight Against Crum's Seasoned Squad

Facing the light and inexperienced American University eleven which was playing its first game of the season, the gridmen of George Washington romped away with the long end of a 55 to 0 score last Thursday afternoon.

Mock, Igo, and Hughes led the attack of the Buff and Blue, each scoring two touchdowns. Wilton and Patterson accounted for one apiece.

The game, which took the aspect of a practice tilt was marked by the ease with which the Crummen scored and the pluck and fight of the American University lads. The latter, although hopelessly overwhelmed, struggled bravely, and refused to consider themselves beaten until the final whistle sounded.

Coach Springston is to be congratulated upon his fighting squad.

GIRL HOCKEY PLAYERS ELECT TEAM CAPTAINS

Mae Huntzberger Leads Juniors; Abbie Burke, Sophomores; and Leah Cate, Freshmen

Captains of the class teams were elected at a meeting of all hockey players in the Gym on Wednesday, October 28. Leah Cate was chosen to captain the Freshman team. Abbie Burke was appointed by Miss Hopkins as temporary captain of the Sophomores, who could not elect on Wednesday, because they lacked a quorum. Mae Huntzberger will lead the Junior team.

Since there were not enough Senior girls out for hockey this fall to make up a full team, Miss Hopkins advised the combination of Juniors and Seniors to form one strong team. The suggestion was adopted, and the best players from each group will be selected by the coach at the next practice to complete organization of the upper-class teams.

Juniors and Seniors will practice on each Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Ellipse. Sophomores will play on Thursday, and the Freshmen on Friday afternoon.

The second of the series of inter-class games is scheduled for Saturday, November 14. There will be a game every Saturday thereafter until the championship is decided.

SPLINTERS FROM SPORTDOM

More Letters Come In

"It Isn't the School—It's You"

Football Games at 2.30

G. W.'s "Four Horsemen"

By DAN MCGREW

Several more letters have come to us concerning the suggested Georgetown post-season football game. Chances for the game this year look mighty slim at the present writing, there being too many obstacles in the way. We do know one thing, however, and that is that the students want such a game, and such knowledge will have weight when next season's schedule is made up.

A little poem found in the columns of a Hatchet exchange which fits a certain type of student at G. W. is quoted below. We hope that such students may read this and profit by it:

It Isn't the School—It's You.

If you wish to go to the kind of school

Like the kind of school you like,

You needn't slip your books in a grip

And start on a long, long hike.

You'll only find what you've left behind,

For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you

Knock your school;

It isn't the school—it's you.

When everyone works and nobody

Shirks,

You can raise a school from the Dead;

And if, while you make your personal

Mark,

Your schoolmates can make one

Too,

Your school will be what you want

It to be;

It isn't the school—it's you.

—Porpoise.

Maybe it's not much poetry from a

Literary standpoint, but oh, how well

It fits some of us.

We have either been late or have

Missed our five-ten class altogether

On Saturdays after every home foot-

Ball game this year, because we are

Not able to leave the excitement of a

Football game until it is finished to Come into the class room. (No of-Fense to the profs.) Here's hoping that the starting whistle blows promptly at 2.30 in the future.

At recent football games a small group of men with misdirected cheering energies have attempted to cheer AGAINST the leader and the section, instead of WITH them. With such action as this going on, in addition to non-support, and a continual razzing of the leaders by so-called supporters in the stands, it is small wonder that sometimes the cheering "flops."

Last year we had "Two Horsemen" who were consistently good, Loehler and Wagner; this year we have two editions of the "Four Horsemen," each set of backs being real "horsemen." Wilton, Clapper, Coleman and Mock—we could write volumes about those boys, and we shouldn't forget Sapp, Igo, and the rest. In the line we have two draught "horses" beyond compare in Hayman and Slaughter at tackles, who are not racers like the backs but have the goods. It is a joy to watch that team play football.

A student of the University writing to the Hatchet accuses us of showing the most stone-blind partisanship possible in the treatment of a letter in the November 4 issue. Maybe we are partisan, maybe not, but for the sake of the argument could anyone be anything else but partisan toward his University and be a loyal student of it. We like to see anyone partisan in favor of his Alma Mater and naturally expect it.

Last issue Ye Ed. threatened us with dire vengeance if we turned in two full columns of such excellent (?) copy again. So, as the story book says, "Dear reader, we must leave you now;" or as the radio man says to the kids, "Goodnight dear children, sleep tight!"

ARCHITECTS RECEIVE 3,000 STURGIS PHOTOS

The Architectural Library has just been presented with a collection of about 3,000 photographs by Russell Sturgis, the internationally known writer on architectural subjects. These photos were used by him in the publication of his many works.

Professor Burtis Baker, who is connected with the Corcoran Art Gallery here, is conducting the life class, and the Department hopes in the near future to have Mr. Julian Zolnay, the well-known sculptor, take charge of Modeling and Sculpturing, a new branch to be installed, as is a class in oil painting and home planning and decorating, the latter primarily for students in home economics.

When you

ITALY'S CONDITION BEST OF POWERS

Situation of England Grave,
Says Dr. Charles C. Swisher
Before History Class

NEXT MEETING TUESDAY

Swisher Testimonial Drive Begun;
Subscriptions Being Received
By Special Committee

Italy's condition alone appeared to be the most reassuring of the four great powers of Europe according to Dr. Charles C. Swisher, who spoke before the History Club, at its first meeting October 20, reviewing the present diplomatic situation of France, Germany, Italy and England in the light of his recent visit abroad.

France and Germany, with low exchange rates, both appeared to be less stable, he said and ventured that France may yet have to be rescued by a second Mussolini.

England, he found, to present a grave situation, due to mounting tax burdens and labor unrest, with no apparent ready solution.

Switzerland seemed to be the only country untouched by tragedy. Some slides were shown of this little nation.

Dr. Bemis to Address Club

Announcement was made at the meeting of the drive, now under way, for a testimonial to Dr. Swisher for his long and inspiring service in the University. Subscriptions are being received by a committee composed of Edgar Graham, chairman; A. L. Russell, treas.; Nancy Feehan, Ora Marshall, Ildria Bridges and Anna L. Ericson.

Dr. Samuel F. Bemis, of the History Department, will address the next meeting of the Club to be held in Room 22, Building 5, this coming Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. His subject will be "The Dynamic Interpretation of History." Election of officers will follow.

OFFER FELLOWSHIPS IN FRENCH UNIVERSITIES

Graduate Students Eligible for Awards to Be Made By American
Field Service

Graduate students attending George Washington University are eligible to compete for the American Field Service Fellowships in French Universities for the year 1926-1927. The fellowships will not exceed eleven in number, and will be of the value of $1,200, tenable for one year. They may be renewed a second year upon application, provided circumstances warrant it. The University of Paris and sixteen other French Universities are among those available to students receiving fellowships, which are offered in thirty different fields of study.

The candidate may choose the field of study he prefers but in general the fellowships will be granted for advanced study only in fields wherein the student has already shown proficiency. Applicants must be citizens of the United States, and must be college graduates or be twenty-four years of age and have spent five years in work requiring like technical skill. They must be of good moral character and possess practical ability to use French texts. Fellowships are at present open only to men. Applications should be sent to Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City, not later than December 15, 1925.

FORM STUDENT Y. M. C. A. AT DINNER CONFERENCE

National Council Chairman and Regional Student Secretary Address Local Advocates

First steps toward the organization of a Student Young Men's Christian Association at George Washington University were taken on Saturday, October 24 when a representative group of students met at a dinner conference with W. H. Tinker, Regional Student Secretary of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., in the College Room of the Washington Association.

Represent Other Universities

Lionel Newcomer, a representative from the University of Maryland, Y. M. C. A., and Phil Ross, president of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of West Virginia, who holds the added distinction of being chairman of the National Council of Student Y. M. C. A.s, told about the activities and accomplishments of student associations in other universities. Mr. Tinker, came from New York for the conference, and spoke about the situation here.

Following the presentation of the aims and a consideration of the possibilities of a Student Y. M. C. A. at George Washington University every student present subscribed to the purposes of this international movement. Temporary officers were elected for the new organization.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT MEETING OF PLAYERS

G. W. Players held their second regular meeting Wednesday night in Corcoran Hall 23, thanks to Dr. Richardson who moved his seminar to a smaller room.

A one-act play by Christopher Morley "Thursday Evening" was given under the direction of Alice Williams. The cast was composed of Lucile Sparks, Abbie Burke, Esther Iglehart, and Norman Vanderrinden. The remainder of the program consisted of recitations: "My Little Dog Alice," by Ruth Greenwood, "Bernardo del Carpio," by Vincent Stubbs, a student director, "The Tragedy of the Poor House," by Betty Kilbourne, and "The Highwaymen," by William Clementson. Kermit Girdner, another of the student directors, closed the meeting with a talk.

Other plays that were scheduled for the evening will be given at the next regular meeting, the first Wednesday in December.

CRUM TEAM TIES TEMPLE MACHINE

field for a gain of 15 yards. Here again, with a touchdown almost within their grasp, the Hatchetmen fumbled and the visitors recovered.

The entire Crum backfield showed up advantageously. Wilton demonstrated his skill in directing the team, and in his stellar all-around work. Coleman turned in several wonderful end runs, and Clapper and Sapp starred with their twisting, dodging broken-field running. With one exception, Mock's punts were consistently long.

The work of Kendall, Slaughter, and Allhouse stood out above the sterling performance of the entire line. Jacobs and Capt. Gilliland shone for the Philadelphiaans.

The Hatchetmen gathered a total of ten first downs while the visitors were registering three, and the aerial attack of both teams failed to produce results.

Line-up and summary:

Hatchet Reviews of Current Shows

By TOM PATTERSON

COMING AND STAYING

At Poll's, opening Monday, Arthur Hopkins announces the comedy "In a Garden," with Laurette Taylor. At the National, also opening Monday, an all-star cast appears in Sheridan's comedy "The School for Scandal." Loew's Columbia announces a third week of Charlie Chaplin in "The Gold Rush."

BELASCO

"At the Curtains," presented by Wagenhals and Kemper, the team responsible for "The Bat," is a unique mystery play, in as much as nobody gets killed, or anything desperate or the like. True enough, somebody steals some bonds, but who cares for bonds; a fellow can't give up two hours of sleep to find out who stole a few cheap bonds; they probably weren't real bonds, anyhow. The denouement is sudden and unexpected, and the hero lives on, and gets his little sermon in against circumstantial evidence. Ralph Morgan takes the part, but not too seriously.

During one of the tense moments, I heard the heart-broken lad in back of me telling his buddy "—an' I bought her a big diamond, but she married the other guy." There is drama there, and tragedy too. BOB.

RIALTO

Every young college man who does not already realize it, is in a fair way to appreciate some day the potential trouble-making qualities of woman's longing for "flad rags." This desire for personal adornment furnishes the theme of "Souls For Sables" at the Rialto this week. Wonderfully gorgeous evening dresses, sable coats, etc., are depicted amid drawing room settings which approach the main waiting room at the Union Station in magnitude. And the various and devious ways that the girls use in accumulating their wardrobes—however, at least one of them, Alice Kendal, (played by Claire Windsor) is the victim of circumstantial evidence, so all ends happily when things are cleared up. Eugene O'Brien plays the part of a somewhat dense husband.

Accompanying attractions are the newsreel, a cartoon comedy of the canny Felix the cat, and Mischa Guterson's usual excellent musical features. TOM.

PALACE

Buster Keaton, in a comedy entitled "Go West," is at the Palace. The comedian who never smiles takes us out where the west begins, and introduces us to "Brown Eyes," a bovine of no mean histrionic ability. Then the fun commences.

A bit draggy at first, the show livens up when Friendless (Keaton) reaches Arizona, and it gathers speed and hilarity to the climax; if comedies may be said to have climaxes. Although he resorts to slapstick for his laughs, Buster comes over the top with plenty of new situations. I think there is a leading lady, but you'd hardly suspect it, because she has so little to do. If you are a Keaton fan, you do not want to miss this hilarious epic of the land where men are men and women are rotten governors.

A Pathe newsreel, a juvenile comedy, and Gannon music round out the bill. ELBERT.

METROPOLITAN

For a picture that is unique and replete with thrills, I would recommend "The Lost World." The story is by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who in this instance has let his imagination roam farther than ever. It concerns the adventures of some explorers who find a prehistoric section of the earth populated by dinosaurs, wampus cats, and all such weird monsters as you are apt to see after dining on a combination of stuffed olives, strawberry ice cream and pickled tripe. After having fallen into the arms of Morpheus you will think the National Museum has come to life.

The story is rather loosely put together, but the redeeming feature is the all-star cast, made up of Lewis Stone, Bessie Love, Lloyd Hughes, Wallace Beery and others. It is quite a relief to see Mr. Stone cast as something besides an erring husband, and likewise Mr. Beery as a learned professor instead of a gentleman of ulterior motives.

As a starter Daniel Breeskin's orchestra plays a symphonic prelude by Dvorak. Other additions are the Pathe weekly and a sugar-coated pill of wisdom. JOE.

COLUMBIAN DEBATORS DISCUSS PROHIBITION

That Prohibition has been a failure was the two to one decision of the judges at a meeting of the Columbian debating society Friday night. Frank Smith was awarded first honors and Nelson Faulkner second honors. John R. Brommel acted as critic and Edward B. Moulton presided during the debate.

Frank Smith, Wroe Alderson and Robert Ward contended that Prohibition has failed. Robert T. Hall, S. E. Morgan, and Nelson Faulkner upheld the negative.

At the meeting of the Society Friday night the fascist government in Italy will be discussed. The Ku Klux Klan will be the subject of the debate November 20.

DIONYSIANS TO SELECT CAST FOR "THE FROGS"

Tryouts for the cast of Aristophanes' "The Frogs," to be produced sometime in the Spring, were held by the Dionysian Society last Thursday night. Definite results will be known sometime this week when the casting committee will mail the parts to those chosen to take them. At present, two people are to be cast for each role, but the decisions are not necessarily permanent and may be changed during the winter.

Miss Dorothy Croissant was appointed director of costuming for the production.

Dionysian meetings are held the first and third Thursday in every month.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY PHILIPPINENSANS

Filipino students of G. W. U., composing the Philippinesans society, held its first meeting of the year recently at which the following officers were elected: Pres., E. Fanbuena; vice-pres., P. Molina; sec'y., P. Soler; treas., J. Roca.

There are over twenty Filipinos now attending the University many of whom are affiliated with the Philippinesans. Those in the society represent many different schools and Universities in both their native land and America. Dr. E. Fanbuena, Ph. D., comes from American University, others come from the Philippine University, University of Wisconsin, University of Kansas, and still others come either direct from the local high schools or from the Philippine high schools.

MODERN POETS DISCUSS LIFE OF WALT WHITMAN

"Walt Whitman, his life and his works" was the subject under discussion at a meeting of the Modern Poetry Club held Tuesday, November 3. Outstanding facts in the life of the poet were given by Sophia Waldman. Readings from his poems were given by Betty Wiltbank. The Club is already looking forward to sending a delegate to Atlantic City to the convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, which is to be held early in the spring. Those elected to membership Tuesday night were Lois Himes and Frances Fisher.

ENLARGE SIZE OF YEARBOOK BOARD

vious years. Arthur Perry and Edwin Bettelheim were Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager, respectively, of last year's book. Stanley Tracy was Organization Editor last year, Charles Hayes was Humorist Editor and Jeanne Gravatte, Sorority Editor. Ruth Williams has served on the Business Staff of the book and Henry James has been on the Hatchet Staff several years, and is now one of its Editors.

The Board expects to start work very soon and the remainder of the staff will be appointed within a few weeks. Anyone desiring a place on the Cherry Tree Staff should send his application to Stanley Tracy, 1733 N. Street, N. W., before November 15. There are enough lines of endeavor to interest people of varied tendencies and talent, as editorial and business staff positions are both open. The more interest the students show in participation and helping with the book, the more representative will be the contents featured therein.

The new policy of the Faculty Committee regarding publications has been to appoint a Board of Editors instead of allowing all of the responsibility to rest upon the Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager.

The plan is expected to meet with great success as the best ideas and efforts of seven editors will be incorporated in the next yearbook.

EPISCOPALIANS TO HEAR DR. SINCLAIR BOWEN

Dr. Sinclair Bowen will address the Episcopal Club on Thursday night in room 23, Corcoran Hall, on the Conference which was recently held at New Orleans.

Rainy weather is not sufficient to keep the Episcopalians of George Washington from a weinle roast. This was proved by the crowd who gathered at Rolston Lyon's home on Sunday, November 7. Dr. Thomas Read, who is connected with the Bureau of Mines, spoke on the prevention of accidents and rescue work in coal mines. Games were played and then the weinles were announced. Mrs. Lyon, one of the chaperons, had a surprise for the club in the form of home-made crullers.

RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS

The ninth annual membership drive of the American Red Cross begins today and will last through November 26. Membership in the organization may be bought for one dollar, as in previous years. It is estimated that the Red Cross gave relief in ninety disasters in the United States last year.
